NATS WIN AND LOSE---LEONARD STOPS KANSAS IN EIGHTHE

FRANCIS SHUTS OUT RED SOX IN FINAL; Lett DROP FIRST, 4 TO 3

Shanks and Rice Star in Rue Matinee Victory; Opener Won by Quinn.

Clyde Milan's shuffled-up lineup made hits count in the second pattle with the Red Sox to gain an even split on the day's festivities yesterday at American League Park.

With one run over and the tieing marker on third and the winning chalker on the initial bag, the Nats' rally was punctured in the final frame of the morning affair as Harris drove a long one into Nemo Leibold's mitt in deep center, the Red Sox gaining Francis Shuts 'Em Out.

Toung Ray Francis, who shoots 'em from the wrong side, didn't give the Bean Eaters a look-in during the afternoon contest, checking up a shutout for himself and keeping the Nats within striking distance of the waning Tigers, who dropped a pair yesterday to Cleveland. Shanks combined with board a series of goose eggs by some considerable tall fielding around to hot corner—a most appropriate name.

Cavorting Samuel Rice accounted for Bill Piercy's downfall in this scrap.

driving Smith over with a caroming triple off the right field bleacher wal in the first and sending Francis across the pan with the Nats' other tally with a single to center in the eighth. "Turkey" Brower Joe Judged around first base in both events. Joe sitting on the sidelines with a bum leg re-ceived in a colision with Dugan on Sunday.

Let's listen to the history of the game the Nats finally took in spite of puny hitting. Rice Triples.

However, the first frame swat-ting wasn't so puny either. Sheriff Smith swung around on one of Bill Piercy's offerings in the first trip to the plate in the afternoon, the ball scorching the right field foul line. You would have thought the sheriff was back in Missouri chasing bad men the way he tore for second on the hit and dove into the bag a jump aheadd of Collins' throw Roger Peckinpaugh helped the it looked like a big afternoon when m Rice duplicated Smith's wallop. He also was tearing for second, figuring he could if the sheriff did when the ball took a long carom off the bleacher wall and Shano Collins was forced to gallop to the right field to retrieve the pellet, eading Sam at third. However, Shanks brought things back to nor malcy with a weak slap to Piercy who tossed to J. Harris, Sam hold-ing third. Brower, riled at the over supply of swatting for one inning up a tremendous foul which

His only extremely dangerous session blew up with a bang in the seventh when the aforesaid Collins lambasted one far over Sam Rice's dome for a triple to open the inning.

The infield drew ih and Francis drew up. He gave Menosky at teaser, and the former Nat bit, rolling an easy one to the mound. Piercy went great guns after the first frame. Brower smote one to right in the fourth, but was promptly doubled on a rap by Harris. Piercy entered the eighth with only three blows charged against him. The game was won, but by such a measly number of hits that Francis was plainly disgusted. Furthermore, Piercy had hit him. So after Pat Gharrity had skied to Menosky Francis punched a mean one to center. Sheriff Smith poked into an apparent double play, but Pratt tossed wide to Eddle Foster and all hands were safe. Peck drove a wicked one to center, but high enough for Leibold to camp under. Then came our Sam sagain. Sam felt the urge and after waiting for the right kind slammed one between first and second, while Francis cavorted home. Shanks walked and the bases were loaded. Brower lands and second with the tieing marker. And Harris field to Leibold.

Today is an off day—again.

Shanks retired Dugan to start the ninth on a great stop over the bag. Shano Collins knocked another and the crowd took their seats again. But Menosky, amid great applause, with a strenuous swing missed the third strike and Ruel bounced to Shanks, who ended the game by a peg to second.

The victory gives Francis about a fifty-fifty standing to date. He fully deserved to win against the Fankeeş the other day.

Erickson was whiffing 'em right and left in the morning game, but got whiffed in the pinches. The Red Hose eased over run by run after the Griffs had taken a start in the first inning, until the high count of four was reached and the game gone.

Maynard gave Smith a life in the first inning and the Sheriff advanced on a bunt of Peck's, Rice was there again, doubling to right and sending Smith over. Shanks filed and Brower grounded out.

Maynard tied the count in the thigd, walking, taking third on J. Harris' double to the score board, which Smith fielded in fast style, and scored when Pratt lofted a long pitcher—Miller. Umpires—McCormick and Sentelle.

Again and again Leonard drove his right, then his left to head and Kansas reeled, tottered, staggering around. His arms were helpless to swing, but he kept his jaw down and covered and recled across one side of the ring, driven blow by the champion. It seemed impossible that he could keep his feet, but he swayed and dodged. Four times Leonard measured him for the finishing blow and crashed his right, but each time it missed the vital point.
